Southwood

A pictorial representation is at best inadequate for putting forth the real history of a school. Words and pictures cannot communicate the fundamental qualities so essential in exemplifying the spirit of Southwood which is best portrayed by such intangibles as courage, loyalty, tenacity, maturity, scholarship and leadership — all attributes not easily captured by film and camera.

The ROUNDUP is an endeavor to preserve moments of personal involvement for those who were Southwood 1972.

Dr. Turner Helped Make Southwood A Success

Serving as principal of a large school was a demanding responsibility, and Dr. J. E. Turner met the challenge. The first to arrive and the last to leave, he worked with determination, counseling students, supervising school functions, and presiding over the complete operation. It was the devotion of Dr. Turner that made a success of each individual's work at Southwood.

Dr. Turner and his wife participated in student activities by attending football games.

Mark Bostwick and Phillip Curtis consulted with Dr. Turner about the CODAC program.

Mr. Hennigan and Mr. Rutherford discussed debate team trip to the University of Southwestern Louisiana.

Working in the bookroom with Patricia Elliot and Karen Johnston was one of the many duties which consumed Mr. McLain's time.

Administrators Faced Heavy Work-Load

MR. LEONARD W. HENNIGAN . . . Assistant Principal . . . B.S., M.Ed., Northwestern State University.

MRS. LOUISE H. MARTIN . . . Assistant Principal . . . A.B., Wiley College; M.Ed., Bishop College.

MR. CHARLES W. McLAIN . . . Administrative Coordinator . . . B.S., M.Ed., Northwestern State University.

Mrs. Martin was notified by teachers when they were absent and arranged for substitutes.

The assistant principals listened attentively as Dr. Turner explained new school board regulations.

MRS. SYLVIA M. ADAMS . . . Senior Counselor . . . B.S., M.S., La. Tech.

MRS. JEARLYN RYE BATES . . . Sophomore Counselor . . . B.S., Grambling College; M.Ed., Texas Southern University.

MRS. MARY K. COLLIER . . . Junior Counselor . . . B.S., La. Tech; M.Ed., Northwestern State University.

MRS. DENE FERGUSON . . . Freshman Counselor . . . A.B., Centenary; M.Ed., La. Tech.

Counselors Encouraged Student Activities

Monica Meador and Don Rodgers consulted Mrs. Bates about their schedules.

Mrs. Collier pointed out information to Micki Ramey

Mrs. Prather, aided by Edith Bush and Ray Jackson, looked for films.

Mrs. Sanders assisted Darrell Collins in setting up the overhead filmstrip projector.

The Library Provided Preparation For Future Schooling

Miss Mary Rabalais put the finishing touches on her language display.

MRS. BERNICE J. PRATHER . . . Librarian . . . B.S., Northwestern State College; Master's in Library Sciences, LSU.

MRS. DOYLE S. SANDERS . . . Librarian . . . B.A., Northwestern State College.

Secretaries Were Dedicated To Efficiency

MRS. OPAL GARNER . . . Secretary . . . Meadows Draughn Business College.

MRS. MYRTLE M. LUCKY . . . Secretary.

Mrs. Lucky typed the list of absentees every day for the morning reports.

Mrs. Oden consulted her schedule box to look up student's schedules.

MRS. LOIS ODEN . . . Secretary . . . Norton's Business College.

MRS. MARY P. SMYTH . . . Bookkeeper.

MRS. SUE WAGNON . . . Secretary . . . Nacogdoches Business College.

MRS. SHIRLEY N. CAMPBELL . . . Teacher-aide.

MRS. LOUISE DIXON . . . Teacher-aide . . . B.S., Tuskegee Institute.

MRS. SANDRA W. LEWIS . . . Audio-visual aide.

Aides Guaranteed Smooth Operation

One of the many duties of aides was the supervision of study-hall classes.

Mrs. Lewis was responsible for providing visual aid materials to teachers.

MRS. MARY M. STEWART . . .
Teacher-aide.

MRS. ANNA F. VAUGHAN . . .
Teacher-aide.

MISS RAMONA WIGLEY . . . COORDINATOR . . . English IV. . . . B.A., La. Tech; M.Ed., LSU.

MRS. PEGGY BERTHELOT . . . English III. . . . B.S., LSU . . . Sponsors Creative Writing Club.

MRS. WILLIE E. BOYD . . . English I., II., and III. . . . B.S., Northeast State University.

Sheila McGaha and Susan Holder looked for errors in Southwood's newspaper, the LARIAT.

The year began for Richard Johnson with Miss Wigley handing him his books.

English Remains A Source Of Knowledge

English is the most widely employed language in the world. Students find it a complex language; mastery of which is a vital tool in self-expression. The gathering of all new knowledge in other fields hinges on understanding the English language.

Communications courses, speech and journalism complemented the English department; skilled expression in speech and writing is important for the communication of young ideas. These courses are worthwhile because of enthusiastic teachers and students.

MISS POLLY ANNE CARPENTER . . . English I. and II. . . . B.A., Northwestern State University.

MRS. PATRICIA J. HAMILTON . . . English II. . . . B.S., Grambling.

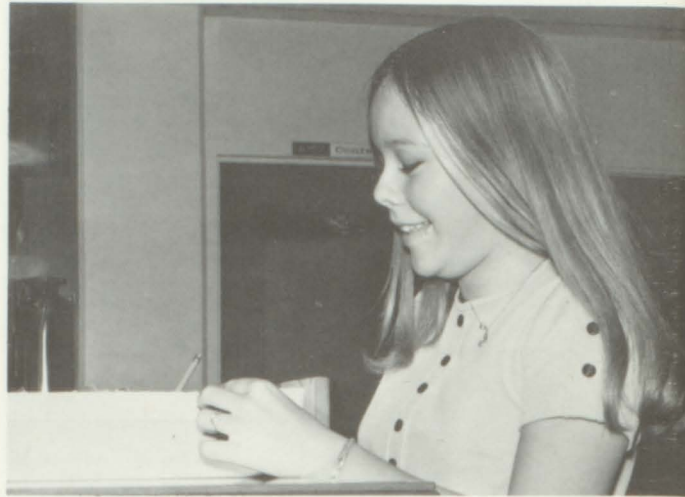

MISS GLORIA HICKS . . . English I., II., and III. . . . B.A., Southern University.

Marcey Bryant acted out a camera in Speech II.

New Horizons Discovered In Literature

Karon Johnston showed thrill of giving a speech.

Debbie Dalton looked up books for her report in English concerning King Arthur.

Mrs. Boyd, exhausted at the close of the day, glared at her stack of homework.

MRS. GERTIE M. HILL . . . English I . . . B.S., Grambling.

MRS. LAINE J. IVEY . . . English IV. . . . B.A., Northwestern State University . . . Sponsors FTA.

MRS. ELLOISE D. JACKSON . . . English III. . . . B.A., Grambling.

Jim Lillich, Robert Owens, LaBrilla Myers and Sharon McEarchern posed for a family portrait.

MR. THOMAS G. LARANCE . . . English III. . . . B.A., M.A., La. Tech . . . Sponsors Student Council, Safety Council, and Red Cross.

MRS. RENEE LANE NEUGART . . . English III. and IV. . . . B.A., La. Tech; M.A., LSU . . . Sponsors CODAC.

MISS CAROL A. PARKER . . . English I. . . . B.A., McNeese.

Mrs. Ivey kept students informed of school news with a "Cowboys Capers" board.

MR. BARRY RUTHERFORD . . . Speech I., Drama and Debate . . . B.A., Louisiana College . . . Sponsors Speech Club and Debate Team.

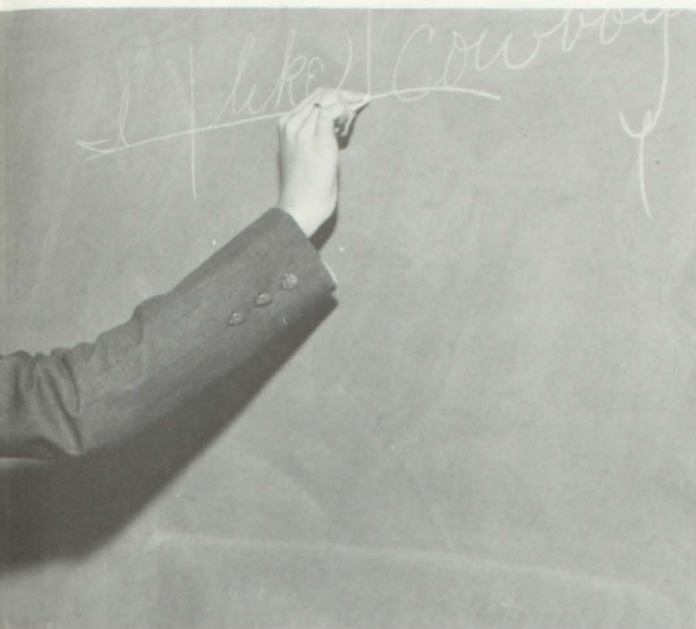

MRS. MARGARET M. SCOTT . . . English II. . . B.A., Northwestern State University . . . Co-Sponsor for Student Council.

MISS DONNA SEARCY . . . Journalism and English II. . . B.A., Northwestern State University . . . Sponsors the Lariat and Quill and Scroll.

Anglo-Saxon warriors, Laura Cascio and Annice Belvin fought fiercely for the Queen's treasure.

Discussions Made English Interesting

Roxanne Ballard demonstrated the correct way to diagram a sentence.

MRS. MARY S. SPINKS . . . English II . . . B.S., Centenary.

MRS. DAPHNA M. SUTTON . . . English I . . . B.S., East Texas State University.

Two visits were not sufficient to keep up with the increasing number of bulletins.

MRS. JIMMIE M. HERRING . . .

Mrs. Herring enjoyed a French solo by Tina Bennett.

Mrs. Tidwell was all ears while listening to Miss Webb.

Sandra Day illustrated the correct way to write a question in Spanish.

Languages Developed Understanding

Goldberry Williams read from Ovid's Metamorphoses.

Mastery of a foreign language enables one to understand not only variations in language, but also variations in people's lifestyles and perspectives. French, Latin and Spanish boasted large enrollments at Southwood. Mastery of languages achieved by students in this department was an important step in easing international relations.

MRS. MARTHA V. HENDERSON . . . COORDINATOR . . . American History . . . B.A., M.Ed., La. Tech.

MISS GAIL BOYD . . . Civics and American History . . . B.S., University of Arkansas; M.A., NYU in Spain.

MR. THOMAS BROWN, JR. . . . American History . . . B.S., Southern University; M.A., John Hopkins University.

Mrs. Craig located the Pyrenees Mountains for Donna Stueart.

Val Ramsey swore James Willis in as a witness for the prosecution.

Man's Progress Traced In Social Studies

Almost everyone would like to change the world. Students at Southwood got to know it a little better. Social Studies provided the opportunity to examine man's successes and his failures in the past before envisioning new social institutions. Through various subject offerings students learned about many different peoples throughout the world and traced the development of growing and falling nations. They gained an appreciation of the building of this American nation and discovered the functions of the American way of life.

MRS. FRANCES C. CRAIG . . . World Geography . . . B.S., La. Tech; M.Ed., Northwestern State University.

MRS. MARVALYN HENDERSON . . . General History and Civics . . . B.S., Grambling.

MRS. BARBARA J. LAWTON . . . Civics and American History . . . B.A., East Texas Baptist College.

Dianne Rungy and Debra Likker voted for the candidate of their choice on election day.

Students Learned How To

Mrs. Tisdale smiled as she watched the students leave at 3:00 Friday.

At the Constitutional Convention, Beverly Morgan listened to Debbie Isbell call roll.

MRS. BETTY W. NASH . . . American History . . . B.A., Arkansas A.M. & N.; M.Ed., University of Illinois.

MRS. PATRICIA P. NELSON . . . Civics . . . B.S., LSU . . . Sponsors National Honor Society.

Become Active Citizens

Nancy Niten and Curtis Talley rushed eagerly into Mr. Brown's American History class.

MISS BARBARA PUGH . . . World Geography and American History . . . B.A., Northwestern State University.

MISS VERDIS STANCE . . . Civics . . . B.S., Southern University . . . M.Ed., Prairie View A. & M. College.

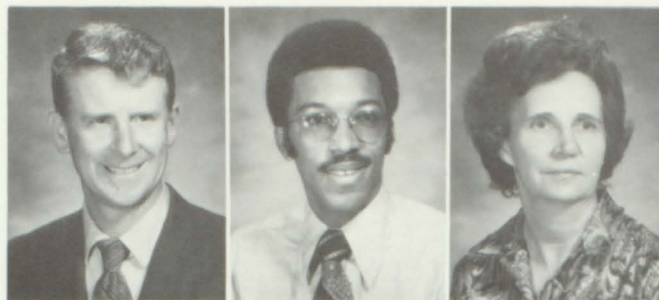

MRS. CYNTHIA TISDALE . . . Economics and American History . . . B.A., University of Massachusetts.

Open discussion in Mrs. Henderson's World History class increased knowledge.

Math Developed Accuracy And Precision

Filling out income tax forms, determining the lengths of a side of a triangle, finding the solutions to an algebraic equation are many skills taught in math. Algebra I teaches the elementary principles of variables and equations which Algebra II enlarges upon. Geometry is the science of lines, points, and space. General Math introduces the fundamental principles of business and arithmetic. Business Math enables a student to practice actual business problems such as insurance forms. By developing mathematical skills, a student will have the ability to solve problems related to his occupation and to function in daily living.

MR. ROBERT HALE . . . COORDINATOR . . . Advanced Math . . . B.S., M.Ed., Northwestern State University . . . Sponsors Interact Club.

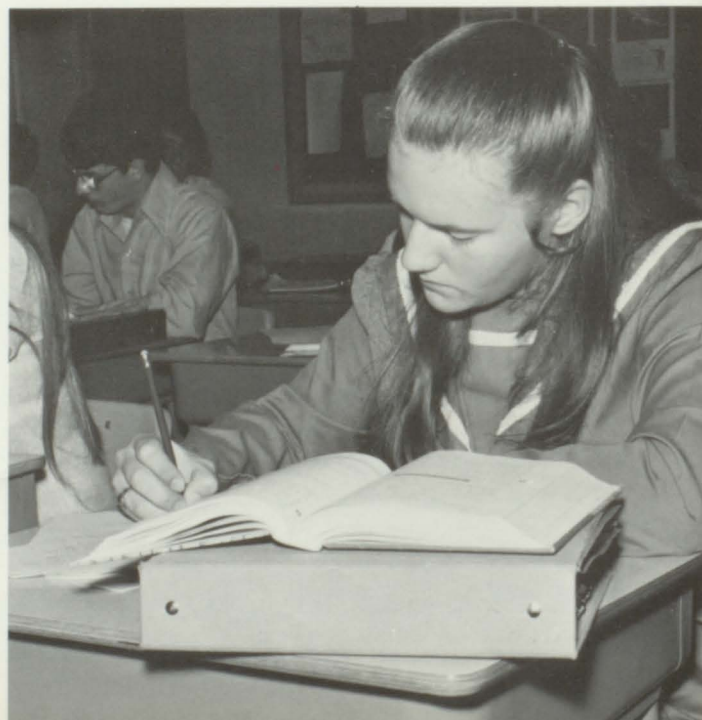

MR. JESSIE BEAUCHAMP, JR. . . . Business Math . . . B.S., M.Ed., Southern University.

Fact And Theory Merged In Sciences

Discovering how a cell looks or seeing how a molecule is joined are the basic steps toward gaining a knowledge of Biology or Chemistry. The first encounter in learning is with those ideas presented in General Science. These include the weather, weights and measures and the use of motors. Biology deals with living plants and their functions. Classes of animals, birds and insects among others, acquaint one with nature and her environment. Chemistry is defined as the study of molecules and atoms and their reactions with each other. Physics involves conceptions of matter and energy. Through these courses in science one gains an understanding of the function of living and non-living matter.

Reecie Bowers and Ted Scurlock performed an ion exchange reaction in Physics.

Art Students Portrayed Vivid Imaginations

Man has delighted in seeing his imagination live through art for centuries. Brimming with ideas, art students learned to express their ideas of fantasy in meaningful forms. Countless arts, including collage, watercolor, macrame, pottery and sculpture, provided an exciting world of exploration.

Ricky George and Dan Garner sketched the surroundings of Southwood.

Artistic endeavors by Ken Henderson included wall hangings.

Music Developed Creative Expression

Music has always provided a relaxing form of entertainment and a beautiful means of expression. Talented and hardworking groups were found in the band and choir rooms always eager to sing the praises of the school. An excellent band and choir gave many interested musicians the opportunity to further their musical interests with a group, and under demanding instruction.

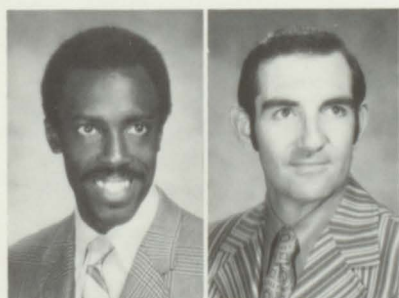

Marching band added to the spirit of pep rallies.

The piano accompanist Robin Hall, contributed to the total effect of the choir.

Students Polished Domestic Skills

The skill and work, which go into being a successful homemaker require much preparation. Not only does this training help in being a housewife, it also aids the career woman in using her time to the best advantage. Home economics involves much more than cooking and sewing. It requires a knowledge of dietary requirements to plan well-balanced meals. Being able to choose coordinating patterns and colors to decorate a house is another necessary skill. With the help of modern technology, the homemaker of the future will have a wide range of utensils to choose from to make her work easier.

Cindy Lehr and Kathy Prothro fitted the waistband on a skirt.

Linda Gibbs stirred an egg omelet vigorously.

Marching was one of the skills practiced by ROTC classes.

Tommy Vaughn inspected the rifle of Mike Roland.

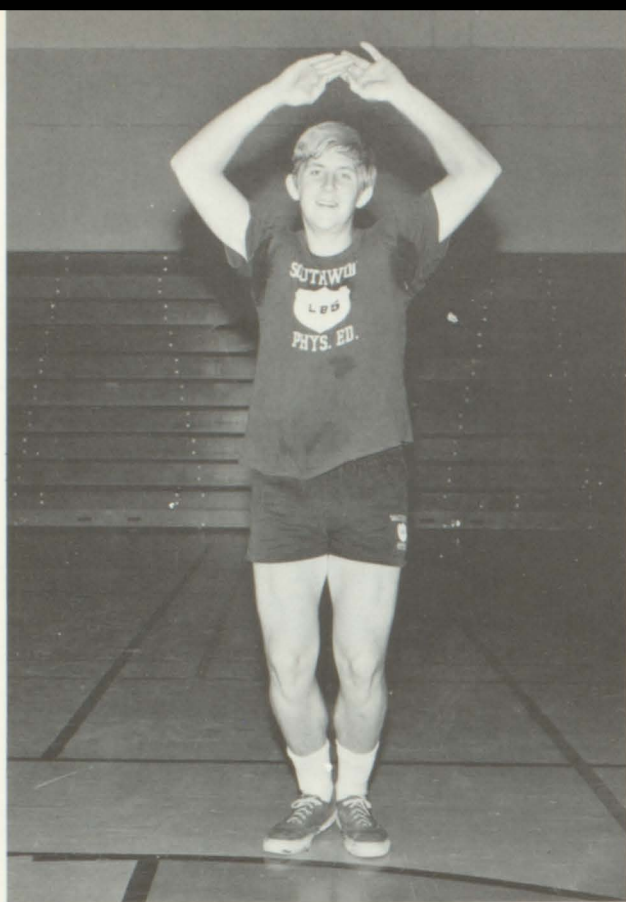

ROTC Inspired High Ideals

To serve one's country is the highest ideal that a citizen works toward. The future of the United States depends on the caliber of young men today. Their training requires much time and effort by experienced military leaders. As new battle techniques and weapons are being developed, revisions of strategies must be implemented. In addition, the leadership qualities developed in officer training aid these young men in becoming leaders in the fields of science, business, medicine, and technology.

Assorted noises related to business are heard each day in the halls of that part of Southwood. Students taking first and second year typing courses learn typing skills which will prove indispensable not only to office work, but also to school work and all fields of endeavor. Other business courses — including bookkeeping, shorthand, D.E., C.O.E., and business math and English — are designed to develop technical aptitudes and help students master clerical practices in preparation for work in a highly competitive business world.

Miss Heath stapled her bookkeeping bulletin board.

Industrial Arts Trained Future Craftsmen

In this changing society, technological advances are being made with increasing rapidity. Training must be given to meet the needs of industry, therefore a wide realm of courses in different mechanical fields are offered in high school. For the student interested in drafting, various levels in mechanical drawing are explored in the classroom. Courses in metals and machine shop provide practice in the use of industrial tools. After successfully completing these subjects, students have enough knowledge to enable them to be prepared for more advanced training.

Experience Was Teacher In Agri-Business

Learning by doing is the most challenging way of obtaining an education. Agriculture teachers and students take pride in their contribution toward proving the truth of this statement. To add to textbook information on correct farming methods students put these methods into practice on the agriculture farm. These young farmers will provide the food for the world in the future.

MUSIC

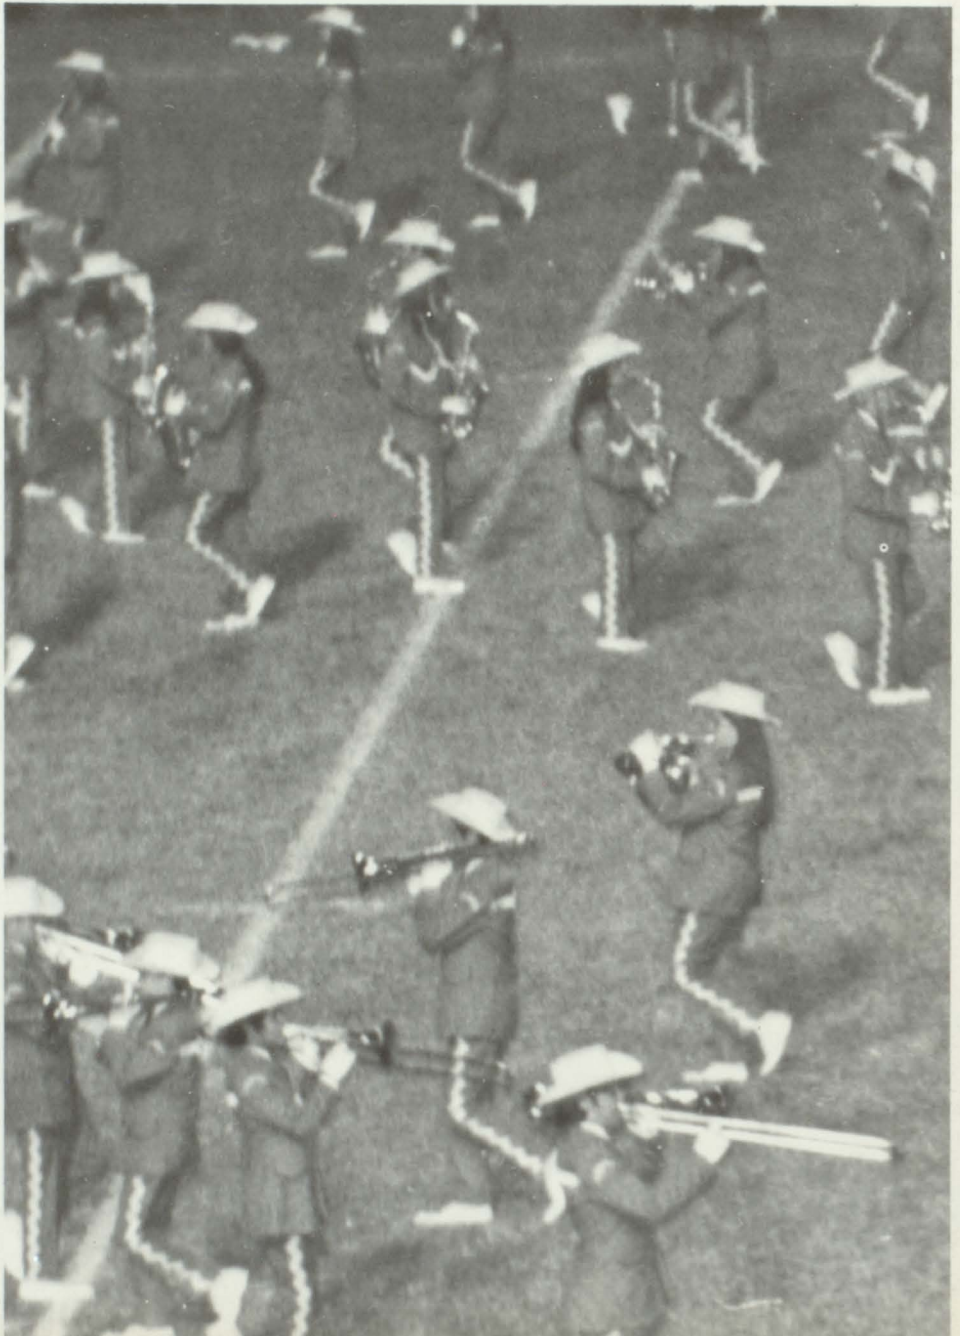

SHS Band

The Southwood Cowboy Marching Band, under the direction of Leon Anderson, participated in local as well as state events. The Band was selected to represent Shreveport at Youth Appreciation Day ceremonies where Governor Exon of Nebraska was honored. They prepared a different half time show for each game and also promoted spirit through posters, pep rallies, and a new addition — the Band Color Guard.

Competition was abundant this year as Southwood's "big orange" band from Cowboy country competed in District, State, and Tri-State levels.

They've Got Rhythm; They've Got Music

Southwood's thirty-two member Concert Choir began this year under the direction of Mr. Melvin Simmons shown below. During the year the choir performed at various civic functions as well as the choral festival at Northwestern. In February, several members of the choir traveled to Natchitoches to participate in the Solo-Ensemble Festival. Along with their extra performances, the Concert Choir gave a Christmas and Spring Concert for the public.

STUDENT LIFE

To Be A Cowboy . . .

A Cowboy's life was filled with many activities: classes, clubs, meetings, sports, memories, and homework!

The most important of course are the memories. Where else could knowledge be obtained which was so helpful in getting a job, or the social activities later to be useful in dealing with life outside of high school or where else could a person find truer happiness than walking someone to class?

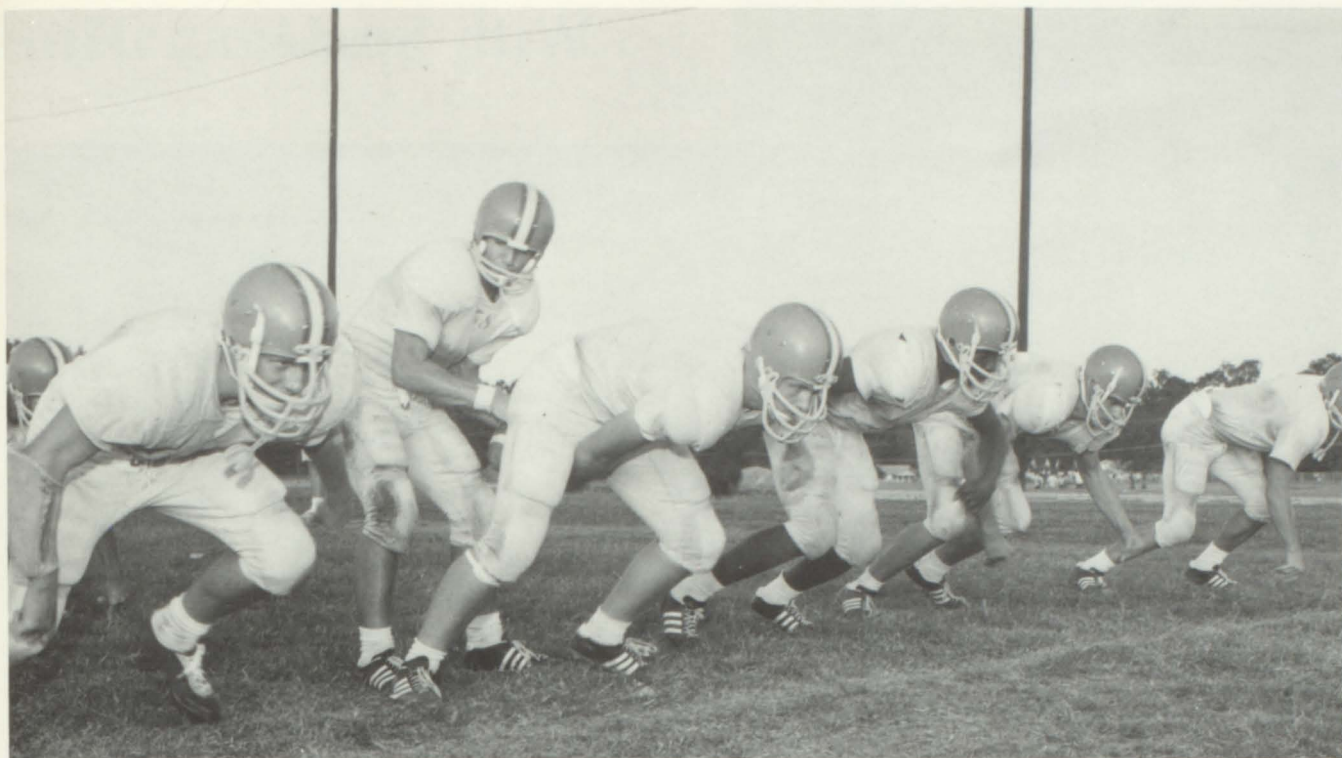

How could one forget the friends he spent the majority of his time with? This was unmistakably the time to be happy.

BELOW: Some freshmen are always getting carried away by something or someone.

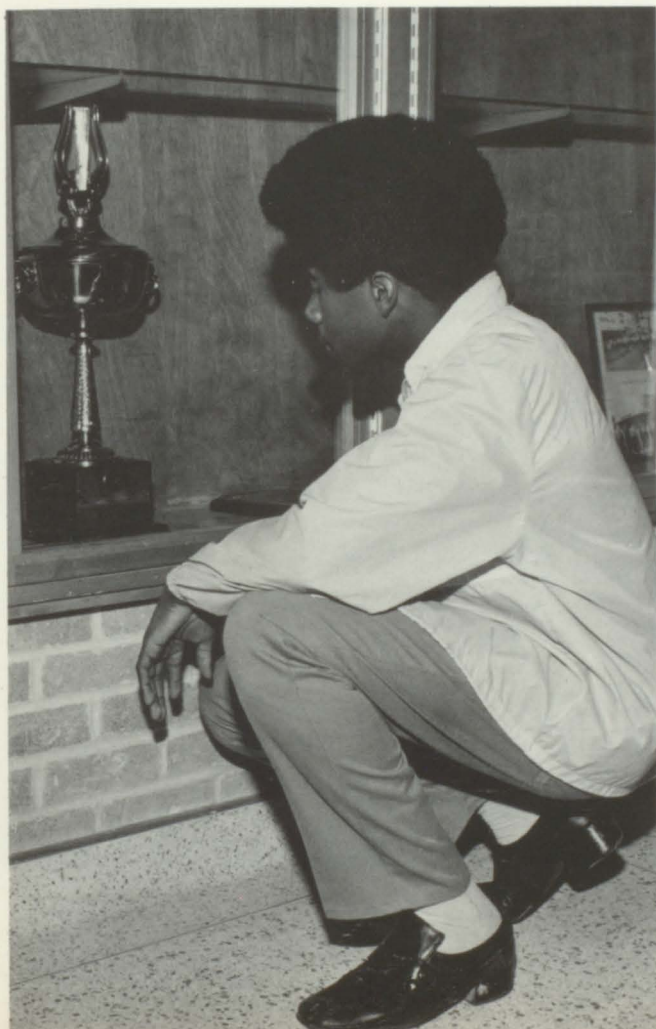

RIGHT: The ceramic Cowboy was a symbol of Southwood's spirit.

Who else would spend their time hard at practice, other than the football team?

Guy Lewis took time to look at one of the trophies won by the state band.

What girl would dare say that she had nothing to wear when she could choose from a mini, midi, or maxi?

With So Many Times

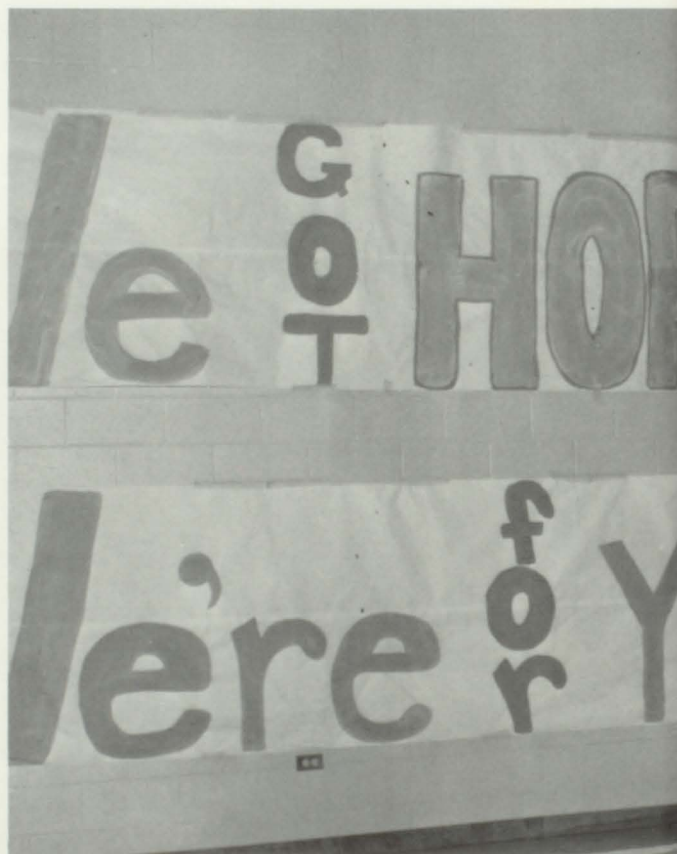

The Rogue Show provided the entertainment at the Homecoming dance.

Time was always found to read a note quickly.

Colorful posters boosted spirit at the pep rallies.

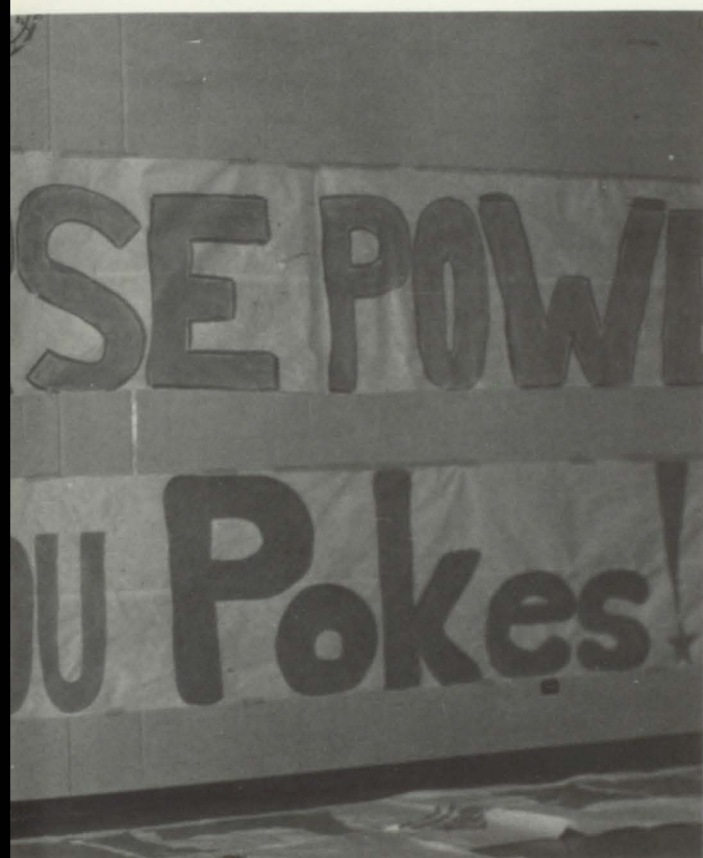

To Remember

Because of the band's dedication, spectators enjoyed the best music at games.

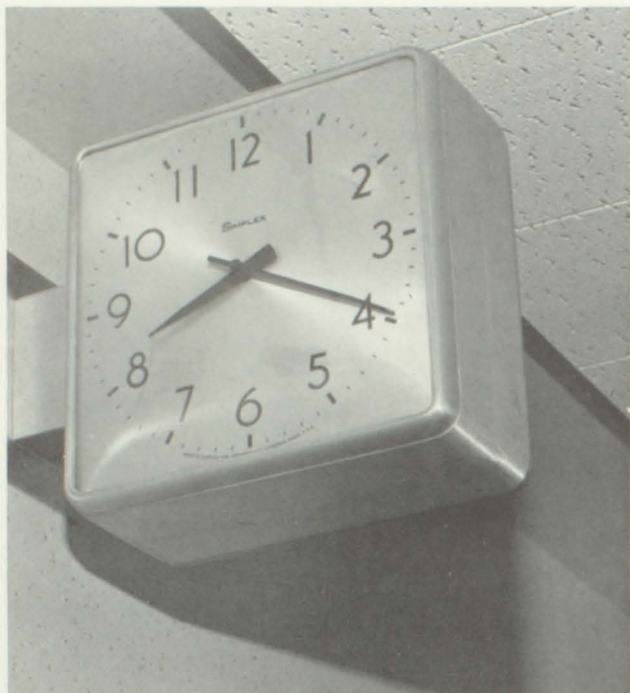

Little Lea Ann White and Ricky Hadwin started early at participating in Southwood's activities.

With a corsage and a favorite date who could forget the dances and parties?

Another day had started.

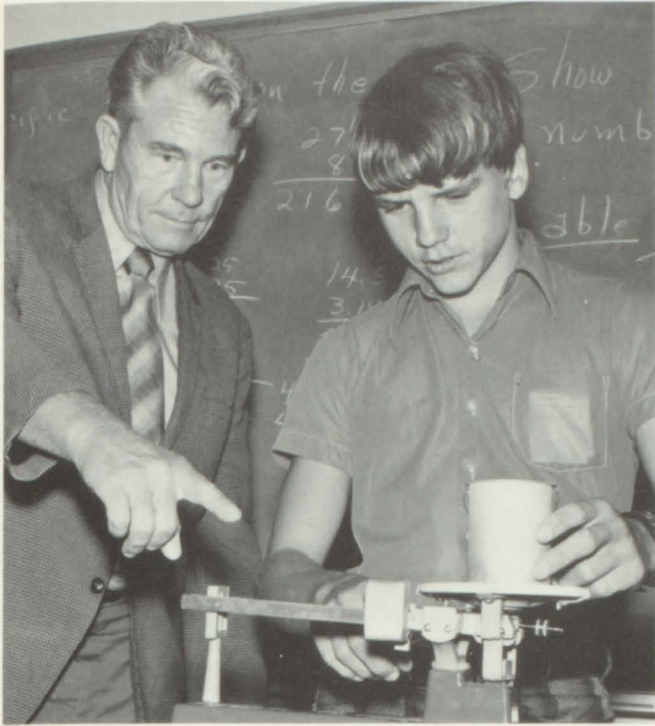

Students looked forward to the day when trees like this one will provide shade for the school.

The senior play members practiced and studied, waiting for opening night.

Moment Was Filled With Anticipation

A steady hand and a watchful eye were needed when using a scale.

The moment every student anticipated — graduation night.

There was no sadder moment than when a player suffered an injury.

When There Was Always A Friend

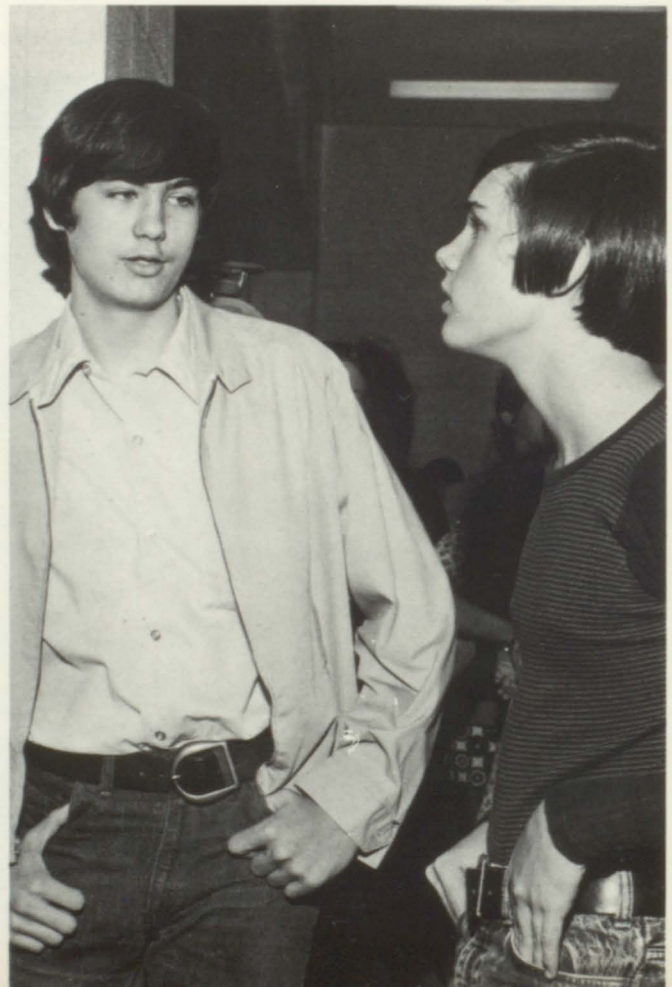

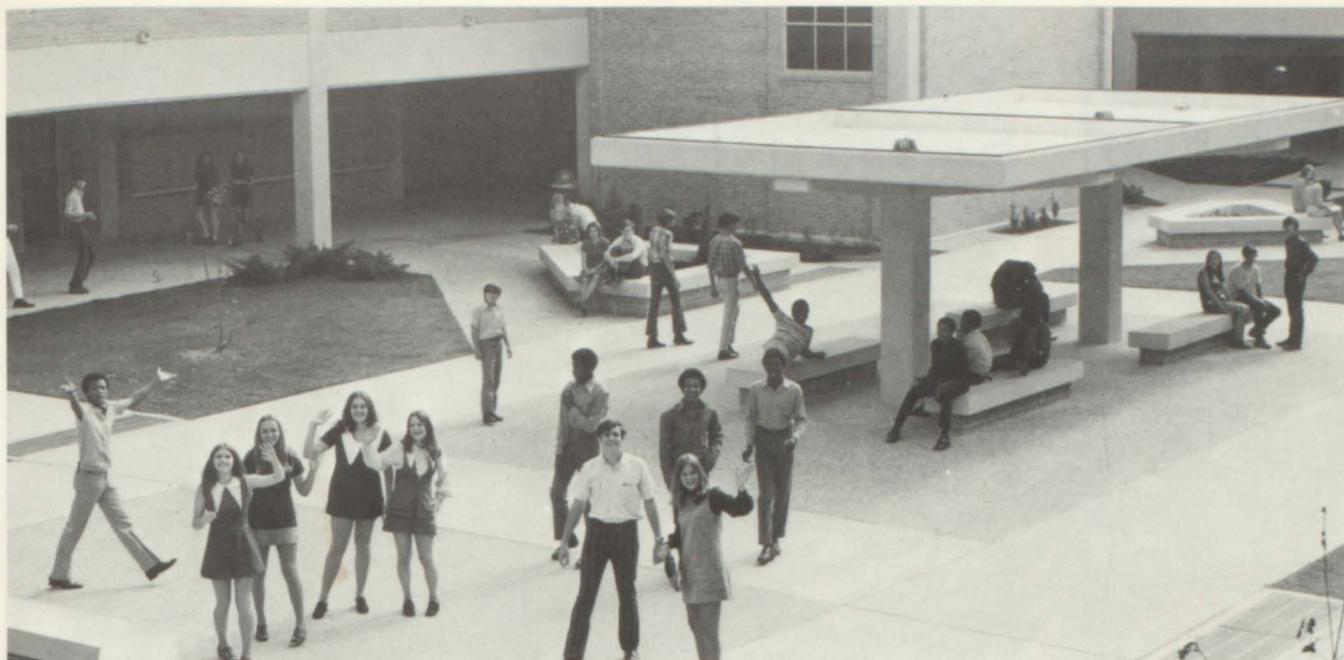

Who said a dog was man's best friend?

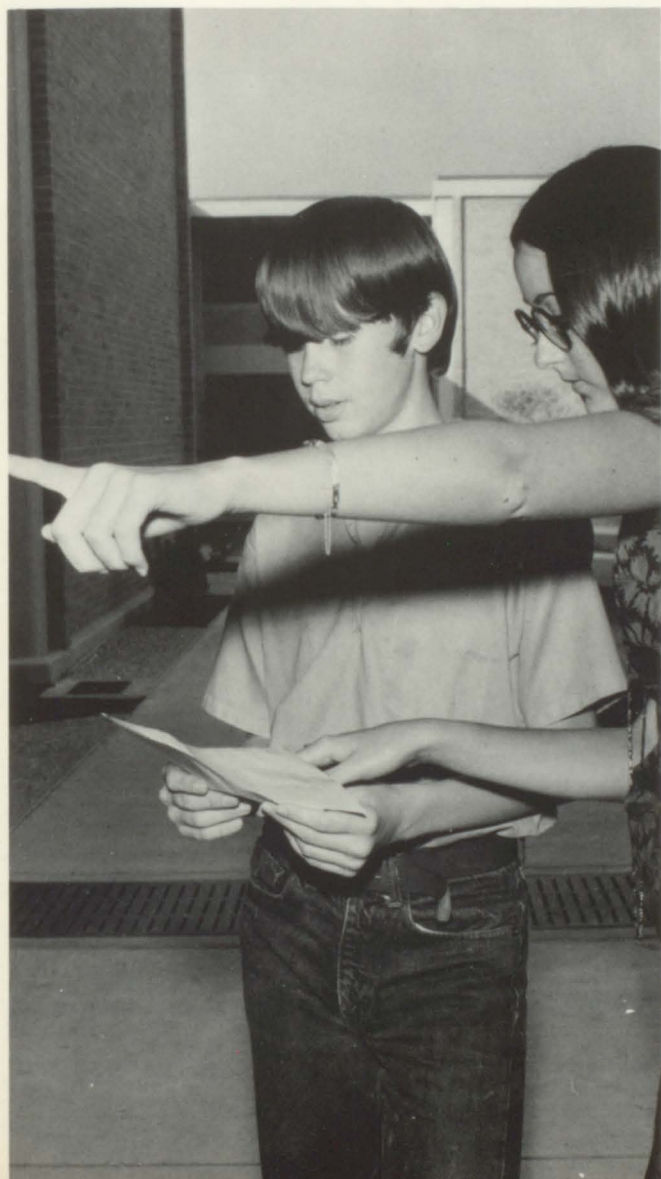

Help in studying made a difference in grades.

Bryce Payne talked with Johnny Bucy while waiting for lunch.

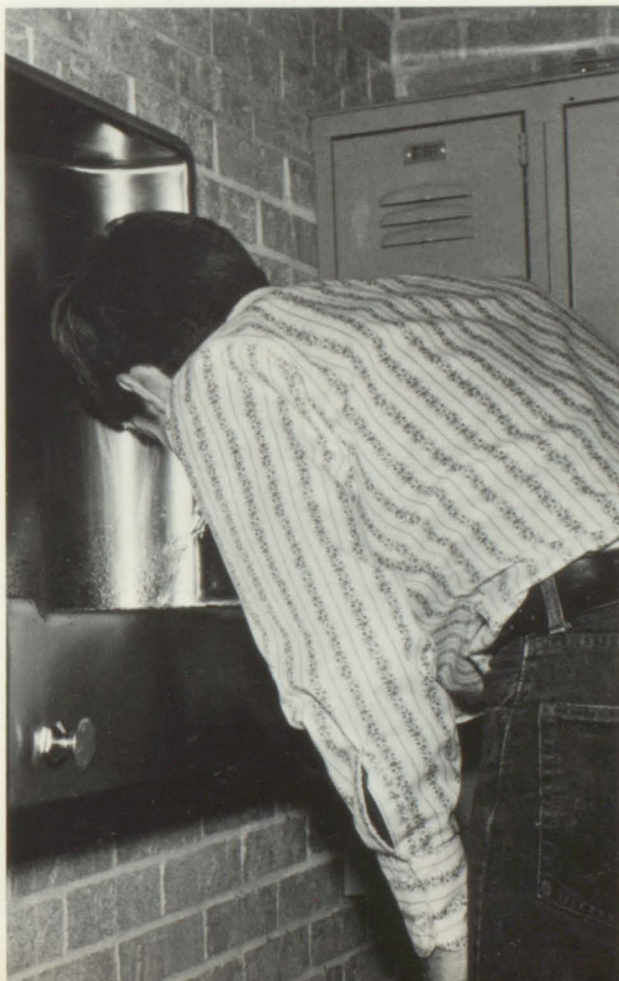

Friends came in all shapes, sizes and colors.

Water, like friendship was free.

An average locker?

There were always those who dared — by taking Home Ec.

RIGHT: Hannibal's pigs-on-a-stik were not in any demand.

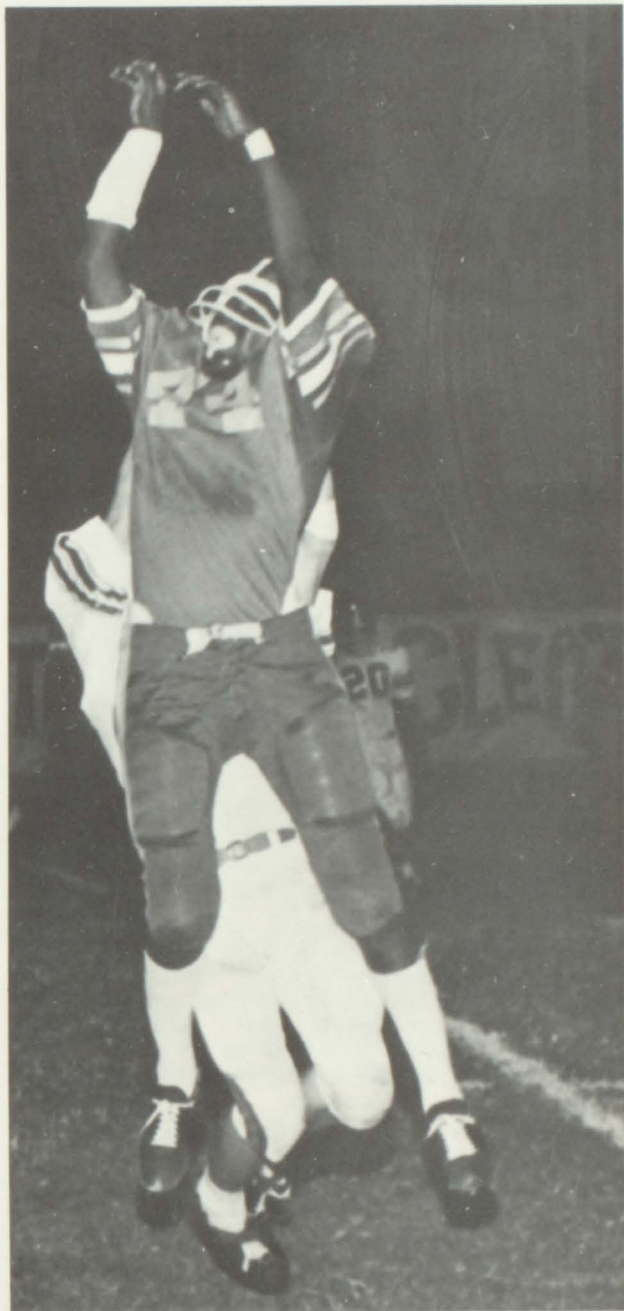

Embarrassment was getting your finger stuck in the typewriter.

The Unbelievable Was Just Around A Corner

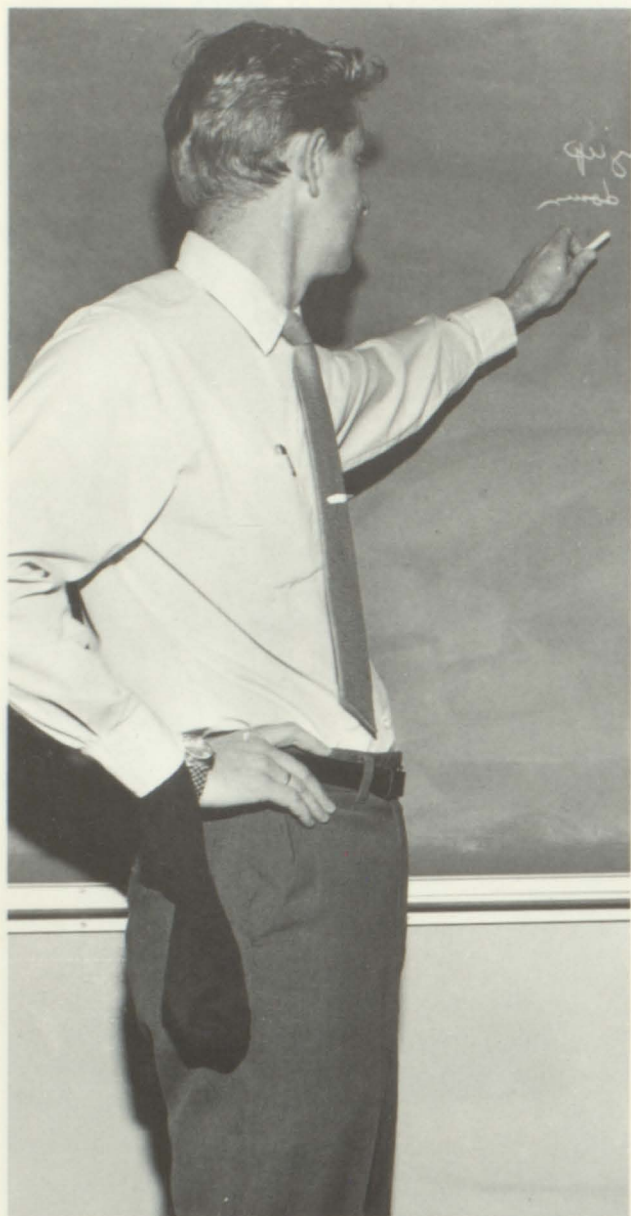

Gary Pennywell always did have nice tonsils.

Where else could one find action like this, than when the Cowboys were on the field.

LEFT: Some days it did not pay to get up.

But For Every Gay Moment . . .

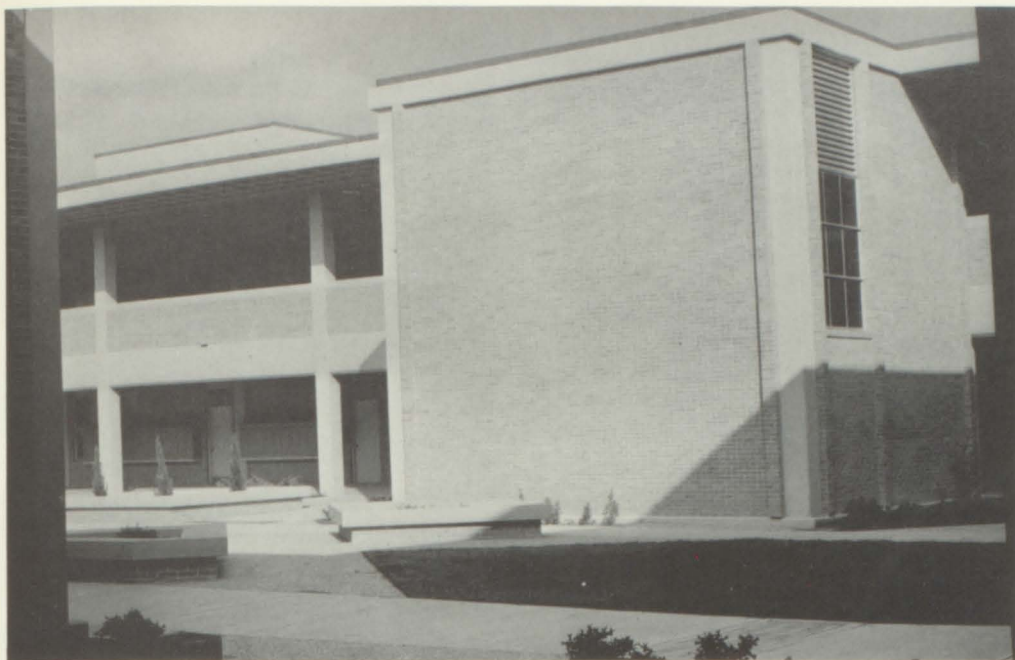

Mr. Hale must have had more than Math on his mind that morning.

RIGHT: One of the exciting moments of being a senior — ordering invitations.

A return to the age of chivalry?

In exchange for four years time, there was endless knowledge.

There Was Also A Serious One

The happiness of one's life depends on the quality of one's thoughts.

He who loves not his country, cannot love anything.

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council Pioneered School Spirit

The Student Council, striving to promote school spirit, uphold policies of the school, improve faculty-student relationships, and advance education, found themselves caught up in a whirl wind of activities. Homecoming and the beauty pageant were presented by the Student Council and were backed by such projects as a carwash, a school store, and parking stickers.

School elections, chapel, and Student Council Week were also sponsored by the Student Council. The Southwood Student Council served as State President of the Louisiana Association of Student Councils and won third place in the state Student Council Week: just rewards for such a hardworking organization. Southwood's 1972 Student Council did much to contribute a feeling of unity throughout the entire student body. Mr. Tommy Larance and Mrs. Margaret Scott were very dedicated sponsors this year.

The LARIAT Lassoed News Of '72

The LARIAT, Southwood's newspaper, provided a way for the students to share their hopes and dreams, honors and achievements, and last but not least their blossoming sense of spirit and pride in the Cowboys. The LARIAT editorial staff, reporters, and circulation staff were sponsored by Miss Donna Searcy. Together the entire staff has done an outstanding job that will always be remembered by the students.

Ad Staff Was Behind The LARIAT All The Way

Each of the eight girls sold at least $75.00 in newspaper ads to support the LARIAT. Without their much needed help, the LARIAT could not have been. But the ad staff came through successfully this year by providing a good foundation upon which the LARIAT could be constructed. The three top salesmen, Curtistine Earnest, Beverly Morgan, and Lil Wisby, were the staff managers. Their sponsor this year was Mrs. Sandra Hadwin.

Ad Staff Planned Football Program

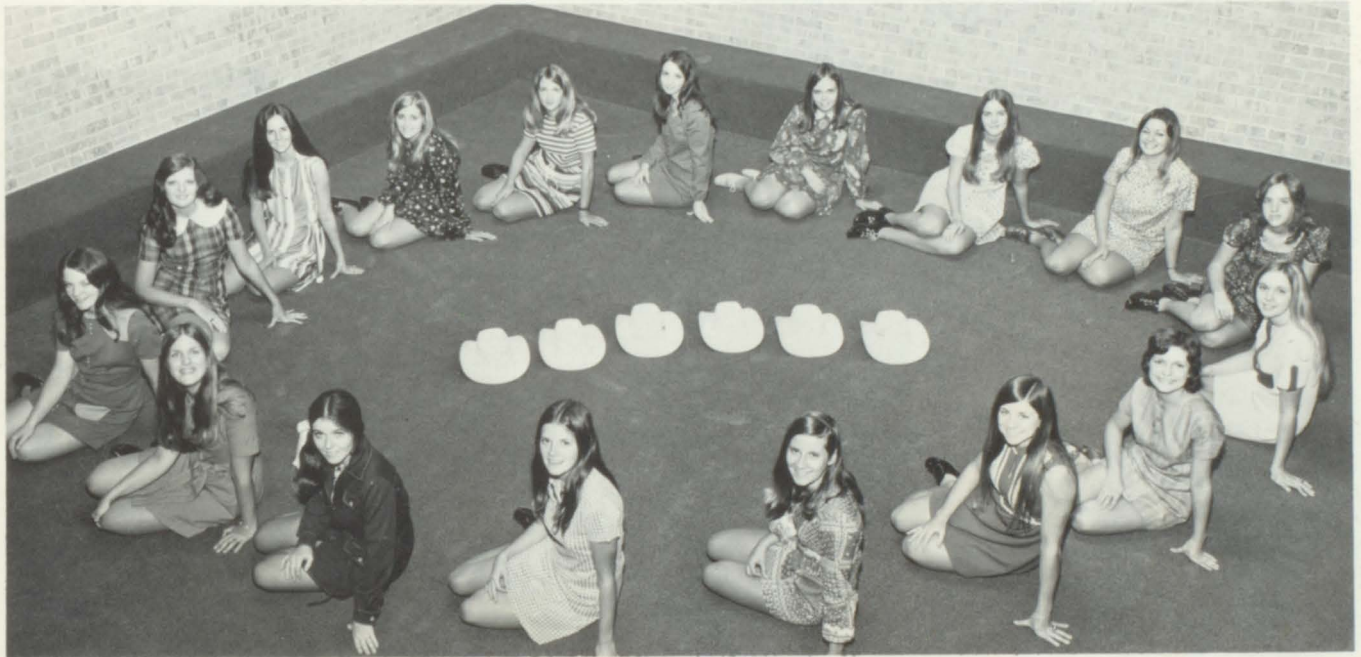

At the end of the year and during the summer, an exclusive group of girls did the leg work and planning for the following year's football program. The eighteen girls who produced this year's programs were elected by members of last year's staff. These girls, divided into nine teams, went out last summer and sold the ads which supported the program. The four teams who sold the most ads became the managers. Mrs. Sandra Hadwin sponsored the girls.

Staff Worked Busily During Summer

Members of the ROUNDUP Ad Staff worked hard last summer selling ads to supplement the cost of the yearbook publication. Under the direction of Miss Jane Jordan, the staff also carried the responsibility of doing the necessary book work, which included billing the businessmen for their ads.

These workers had the recommendation of at least two teachers and a 2.5 average. Each girl was required to sell a quota of one hundred dollars in ads from the list of firms that they received. Jennifer Elder and Jen Brown, members of last year's staff, also made a contribution by selling ads for this year's yearbook.

ROUNDUP Corralled Those "Unforgettable Memories."

The ROUNDUP editorial staff, sponsored by Mrs. Nina Morrison and Mr. E. A. Wilson, provided the students with a year of memories, good and bad, packaged so that any student might flip through the pages of the yearbook and his mind for reflections of the past. This was a year never to be forgotten by the students of Southwood or the ROUNDUP staff, because the staff was so much a part of Southwood. Long hours of work will eventually be forgotten, but the Spirit of Southwood will always remain in the hearts, the minds, and the yearbook.

ROUNDUP Delivered By Circulation Staff

Fourteen junior and senior girls who comprised the ROUNDUP Circulation Staff met first period each morning in Room A131. These girls made posters advertising the four sales of the ROUNDUP, distributed pads before sales, and collected and recorded the money after the sales. The staff also had the privilege of distributing the yearbooks when they finally arrived in May. The recommendation of two or more teachers and at least a "C" average were required to have the privilege of being on the ROUNDUP Circulation Staff.

Club Took Active Part In Science Fair

OFFICERS — Becky Bass, President; Candy Roberts, Vice President; Annice Belvin, Corresponding Secretary; Richard Kinch, Treasurer; Teresa Littlejohn, Recording Secretary.

Students interested in promoting scientific and mathematical activities comprised Southwood's Science and Math Club. The officers as well as the members worked together to increase interest in these areas.

The club, directed by Miss Marie Maranto and Mrs. Ruther Mae Gilliam, participated in many interesting activities. Besides money-making projects, the club took an active part in the National Science Fair in New Orleans.

Student Aides Assisted In The Library

All year many students depended on the library facilities. Several hard-working girls gave up their study halls to assist Mrs. Doyle Sanders and Mrs. Bernice Prather, librarians.

Among their many duties were checking books in and out, shelving books, signing library passes, checking magazines in and out, putting newspapers on the racks, and keeping the library in good order.

First thing after the tardy bell rang each morning, the student office workers' jobs began. Collecting absentee cards, having announcements typed on morning sheets, and delivering them to each class were only some of their duties.

They answered telephones, called absentees' homes, ran errands, and checked students in and out. These hard-working girls helped the office to be run more efficiently.

The Future Secretaries Created Hard Workers

The Future Secretaries of America was an organization that strived to contribute to the production of outstanding young people for the business world. Each girl made friends, dealt with various people, gained practical experience and acquired a better understanding of the career she was about to deal with. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Tabor.

THE OFFICERS THIS YEAR WERE — Donna McConathy — President, Anne Edwards — Vice President, Diana McConathy — Treasurer, and Marilyn Moore — Recording Secretary.

DE Services Sponsored By D.E.C.A.

The members of the Distributive Education Club of America worked to develop future leadership in the field of marketing and distributing, and stressed service and fellowship. Forty-nine participants in the program, sponsored by Mr. F. A. Sanders, had to meet certain requirements before their acceptance. Among these requirements were an interest in selling and merchandising; having reached the age of sixteen, and having maintained at least a "C" average in school. The many activities of DECA members included a Christmas service at the Senior Citizen's Home, a convention held in March, and a banquet held in April.

IBM Manager Was Guest Speaker

Under the direction of Mr. Frank Sanders, the Clerical Office Experience Club had an interesting curriculum this year. An I.B.M. manager and the Selber's personnel manager were two of their guest speakers. A Christmas party for senior citizens was among their activities. Seniors, at least sixteen years of age, who had successfully completed typing, bookkeeping, and shorthand courses and who had at least a "C" overall average were welcomed as members into this club.

Club Encouraged Acting And Speaking

Students interested in public speaking and acting were encouraged by the Speech Club, sponsored by Mr. Rutherford.

At the Forensic tournaments, which members of the club attended, those students interested in acting entered Duet acting, dramatic interpretation, and poetic interpretation events. Students interested in public speaking entered in debate, oratory, and extemporaneous speaking events. Two members of the club received awards for their speaking; Candy Roberts won second place in Senior Women's Debate, 1970; and Bruce Jeungling won first place in the State Optimist Club Oratory.

Creative Writing Club Published "Prisms"

The Creative Writing Club published a collection of student poetry, essays, and short stories, appropriately called "Prisms." The innermost feelings and convictions of many people were reflected from many sides to produce a dazzling spectrum of art ranging from butterflies to raindrops. Members served as journalists, composers, poets, essayists, literary critics, and editors for their publication. These students were sponsored by Mrs. Peggy Berthelot.

Funds Provided By "Goblin Goodies" And Candy

Under the leadership of their sponsor, Miss Bronwen Webb, Latin Club strived to promote interest in classical Greece and Rome and their languages. The sale of "Goblin Goodies," candy, and stationery helped to finance many of their activities which included the attendance of the state and national Junior Classical League conventions.

Membership in Latin Club was open to all students interested in classical Greek and Roman languages and their countries. Their club has been honored by having Miss Webb elected State Co-Chairman of JCL and Teresa Littlejohn State Treasurer.

Key Club — We Build

Serving the community and school and working with the Kiwanis Club were the main purposes of Key Club. The thirty-seven members elected twelve sweethearts at the beginning of the year to help with activities and strengthen morale. Each member, elected by previous members, was required to have a 2.5 scholastic average. Activities of the year included selling corsages for Homecoming, planning a car decoration contest, selling plastic footballs and helping Z Club with a weiner roast at C-BARC. Under the leadership of Mr. Johnny Piazza, Key Club really lived up to its motto: "We Build."

“Z” Club Girl Rewarded Through Service

“Z” Club was an honor and service organization for girls who were outstanding in character, personality, citizenship, scholarship, and who showed potential leadership. They gave of themselves to the school by promoting spirit to the world by many varied services such as visiting nursing homes and shut-ins, and working with exceptional or handicapped children, and they gave of themselves to each other through friendships developed through the secret Big and Little Sisters. Z Club sponsored by Miss Nancy Gephardt, is a very hardworking yet rewarding organization one that will continue serving and rewarding forever.

Interact Exhibited Leadership In Our Community

Serving others and helping the school were the main objectives of the Interact Club of Southwood. The thirty-seven members kept busy by selling license plates, collecting for Open Ear, sponsoring an orphan, and collecting for the Heart Fund, Muscular Dystrophy, and the March of Dimes. Each member was required to keep a 2.75 grade average and to have at least twelve and a half service hours per semester. Meeting each Thursday morning in the room of their sponsor, Mr. Robert E. Hale, the Interact members and sweethearts kept very active in community and school projects.

Bright Prospect Ahead For Future Farmers

The Future Farmers of America provided opportunities of service and recognition as well as leadership training for students interested in agriculture. These boys operated a farm behind Southwood, which consisted of poultry, truck farming, beef, swine, and forestry, and gave them a very valuable education through actual experience. They were honored by being given the Superior Chapter Award during their first year at the state convention. Jimmie Dunn, a very successful president received the State Farmer degree, won first place in Louisiana, and was awarded the Agriculture Business award. The Advisor, Mr. Bruce McKinnon, and the Assistant Advisor, Mr. H. A. Davis aided greatly in training these boys for a very rewarding and profitable future. The Future Farmers are commended for being one of Southwood's finest organizations: destined for success.

“Learning By Doing”

Meeting on the first Tuesday of every month, each member of 4-H was required to select and complete at least one project during the year. A Thanksgiving tea for a rest home, a National 4-H Club display, Christmas carolling, and clothes drives for the needy were among their many projects. Under the direction of Mrs. Scott, the club tried to develop boys and girls into useful, democratic citizens with a worthy purpose in life. 4-H members “learn by doing.”

Club Worked "Toward New Horizons"

The twenty members of Future Homemakers of America expanded the interests of home economics with outside activities of the home. These girls, all presently or previously enrolled in a home economics course, had many enlightening guest speakers, visited nursing homes, held an end-of-the-year banquet, and sold "Smiley" pens. This club was sponsored by Miss JoAnn Joffrion and Mrs. Virginia King. They had a very active year.

Students Provided Aid For Teachers

Providing students with an outlet for their interests in upgrading the standards of the teaching profession, Future Teachers of America provided many services to the school and faculty. Mrs. Ivey, who sponsored the group, and the one hundred twenty members held a Christmas party for underprivileged children, provided student aid for teachers, provided services for schools for exceptional children, and attended a state convention in Baton Rouge. A scholastic average of at least 2.5 and a minimum of fifteen hours of service to teachers was required for membership. Each student also had to keep an active interest in the future of the teaching profession.

HONORS

Mr. And Miss Southwood

In keeping with the Southwood tradition, two seniors were elected Mr. and Miss Southwood. Those elected this year were Betsy Lee and Bimbo Procell.

Betsy and Bimbo typified the Cowboy spirit and the character of Southwood as they enjoyed a wide range of activities.

Homecoming '71

As the mystical strains of "Aquarius" rang through the stadium, eleven beautiful girls, escorted by their fathers, were presented as Southwood's first Homecoming Court.

The presentation, heralded as "Rendezvous with the Stars," marked the appearance of the Cowboy constellation in the heavens. It officially established the tradition of homecoming seniors as a permanent and joyous event in Cowboy history.

"All-American Girl"

Beauty Pageant 1972

Southwood's second annual beauty pageant celebrated the "All-American Girl." After long hours of practice, the week was climaxed when Mary Markaverich was crowned winner. Ramona Kelly, winner of last year's pageant, was on hand to welcome her successor.

In all, seventy of the most beautiful girls at Southwood participated in the pageant. It was the opinion of all that their time and effort had been well spent. Many contestants felt that the pageant was a wonderful and interesting experience and were glad to have shared it with the other girls. Terri Morell was named "Miss Congeniality" by the others because of her kindness and thoughtfulness throughout the pageant.

The master- and mistress-of-ceremonies, Val Marmillion and Carol Almand, were superb hosts, and their talents were greatly appreciated.

BELOW: With the team captains of each team on hand, the toss of the coin signaled the start of every game.

Cowboys Kept On Keeping On

The second year Southwood Cowboys came out this year with tall hopes, looking for an abrupt turn-around in fortune; but for some reason, the breaks never came. Perhaps they didn't make the breaks, or maybe their time just hadn't come, yet they kept off keeping on, and never gave up.

In the early season, it seemed as if an unlucky thirteen jinx (of some sort) had hit the Cowboys, when they were blanked 0-13 by both the highly ranked Natchitoches-Central Chiefs and the powerhouse Airline Vikings. Although the 'Pokes showed some "razzle-dazzle," as in the form of a run out of punt formation against Natchitoches, they made costly mistakes which helped their first two opponents beat them.

Byrd was Southwood's next challenger. In one of the closest games in all of district play, the Yellow Jackets squeaked by the Cowboys 7-6. Coming in in the second half, the Cowboys who refused to quit, drove for their first touchdown of the season and were just seconds from driving for another. The following week (on a Saturday night) the 'Pokes faced the Lions of BTW. Bouncing back after three consecutive losses was hard to do, but the Cowboys came up with the winning combination of offense and defense, outscoring the Lions 13-7.

Spirit was at fever pitch on the night of October 8 when Southwood faced archrival Woodlawn in a heart-breaker. The Cowboys had their chances to win, when inside the 10 yard line twice, but failed to capitalize on these opportunities. The final score was 14-6.

Maybe they were just out of it, but seven days later was Southwood High School's first Homecoming. The 'Pokes with that week's best 1-AAAA defensive team had hoped to come up with the winning formula against the Lafayette Lions. However, the Cowboys never got started and the clock ran out with the score 0-31.

Somehow they came back though. The next week they held up their heads, and the "little people" carried it to big, bad Captain Shreve. A lot of people grew up that night especially on offense. They might not have won, but the Cowboys came back and proved they could play with the best of them. In the fourth quarter the Cowpokes broke loose, and ran 81 yards in one play from scrimmage to score against the Gators. The 'Pokes later scored again from six yards out. It takes a team effort to play football, so old hands ran new positions, and everyone kept hitting. They played with new zip and enthusiasm. Perhaps they did lose, but by the time the clock had run out showing 13-29 on the scoreboard, the offense had shown a new wrinkle and maturity, and the Cowboys had put a scare into Shreve.

They might have been the two best defensive football teams in Louisiana that faced off on November 4 when Southwood played Fair Park, but it takes an offense to score, and that night the 'Pokes didn't have one. Fair Park did; they won 28-0.

After traveling all day to Baton Rouge to face the Redemptorist Wolves, the Cowboys gave their hosts all they could handle, without any help from the men in the black and white striped shirts. The Wolves scored first but the 'Pokes came back with the spirit that typified the entire year. Still it wasn't enough as the Cowboys ended up with the short end of the stick, 12-26.

The Cowboys didn't have the most natural ability in the world or the biggest men, and sure they lost, they'd be the first to admit it, but a win-lost record doesn't reflect a season. It doesn't show the bright spots, the spirit, or the determination that is found among the men in Orange. The Cowboys will be back and anyone can bet his ten-gallon hat they'll be in the middle of it.

Orange Defense Was A District Leader

ABOVE: The Cowboys were always able to find encouraging support from the sidelines.

The basis for success in any venture is potential. That is what this season showed to those who saw the Freshman and B-Teams play. The young Cowboys really only lacked one thing, maturity. Everything else was the same as in their older, more experienced counterparts, spirit, desire, and determination. With all of this, this season revealed a bright ray of hope.

The Glory Of Winning Is Remembered

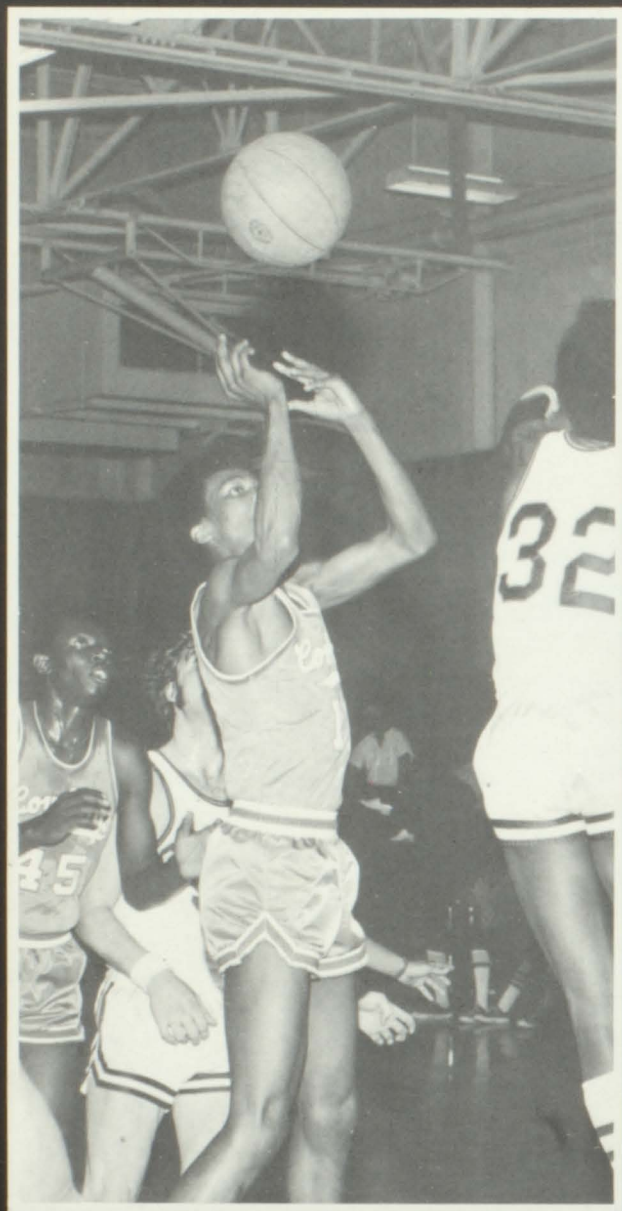

Basketball is a quick moving sport. Things happen suddenly and the results of a game can be determined by but a few minutes of play. In one instant innumerable hours of work and practice can be counted as vain devotion to a lost cause. Defeat has an even greater sting when one knows he could have won, that he should have won, that he was capable of winning.

Yet one victory can make every second of preparation worth it. All the heartaches and disappointments are forgotten, and only the glory of winning is remembered. Victory is the cornerstone of tradition. Every time a team wins, it grows. Desire grows, devotion becomes stronger and spirit swells after every victory, no matter whether it is one win or a million. One second as the conqueror is worth an hour as the defeated.

Many components are required to make up a team and the cowboys had an organization of such high caliber they could compete with anyone. Coach Wayne Tinsley spent more time planning and coaching the varsity than he will probably get credit for. Ed Hearron was Coach Tinsley's assistant and was in charge of the B-team. Both coaches coaxed and worked the Cowboys toward winning.

The basketball team produced stand outs in its own right. Team captain Robert Davidson was the scoring leader for the Pokes and Billy Davis was the leading rebounder and second in scoring. Eddie Sanders, Jimmy Rawls, Travis McGlasson, and Joe Walcher were the other regulars for the Cowpokes, and they each added things essential to the team. The "B" team had its leaders too, and they'll be back next year with McGlasson and Walcher. Things will be popping next year with the Pokes, things a lot of people might not expect.

Cowboys Finished With a 12-9 Season

Under the coaching of Robert Rhodes Southwood's 1971 baseball team posted a 12-9 season their first year out. Led by such lettermen as Ken Serpas, Henry Washington, and Sammy Casciola, who had the outstanding batting averages of .314, .333, and .393 respectively, the Pokes had wins over such formidable foes as Captain Shreve, Woodlawn, Byrd, and Airline. They finished the final third of the season with a 6-1 record and closing with a win against Fair Park in the form of a no-hitter.

Of all the Cowboys on the squad, there was one who helped pave the way for a winning tradition in baseball more than any other: Butch Cole, a junior who had the distinction of being Southwood's first All-State athlete. Although he was the team's leading batter (with a .435 average), and pitcher (with a record of 7-2), it was at first base that he placed on the all-star team. This in itself was proof of his wide range of abilities.

Yet it must be remembered that one person can't produce a record like this. It takes nine men on the field and more behind them to do what they did and will do.

Cowboys Show Great Promise for Future

Although organized practice was late in getting started, Southwood's first track team made a good impression on all those who saw them compete. The cindermen never won a meet but they did place third against many strong teams in the Tide Relays at Minden.

Six Cowboys qualified for the district meet at Woodlawn. Leon Jernigan and Ricky Herren qualified in the hundred-yard dash, Vic Bruce in the pole vault, and the 440-yard relay team consisting of Chuck Ramsey, Danny Mosley, Philip Hogan and Jernigan.

Coached by Lowell Morrison, the entire team will return for the 1971-72 season except for Steve Coyle who was graduated. With everyone experienced and returning, the Cowboys could very well have a bright future in track.

DISTRICT QUALIFIERS: Ricky Herren, Leon Jernigan, Vic Bruce, Chuck

Golf Team Tied for City Championship

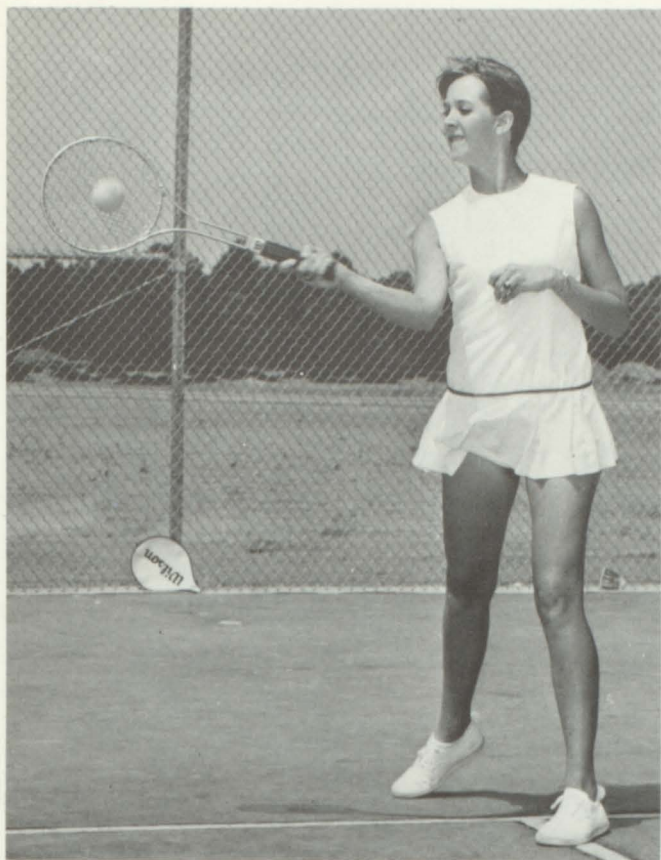

Perhaps they went practically unheralded, but the Golf team won respect throughout the district as a team with which to be reckoned.

Posting a record of eight wins and just three losses, the Cowboys went on to place fourth in the District Tournament. Yet the highlight of the season was probably the City Championship Tournament. In this the Pokes went stroke to stroke with Captain Shreve, tying for first place. However, when it came around to the "Sudden Death" playoff, the team had two strokes more than the Gators and ended up in second.

During the City Tournament, it was a Cowboy who was named the medalist, Randy Hollowell, who typified the Southwood competitive spirit in all athletic events.

BELOW: Golf "A" Team: Tim Cain, Tom Bachman, Steve Adams, Russell Cooksey, Randy Hollowell.

Poke Netters Had Pride

Southwood High School's tennis team started their first year facing the overwhelming prospect of competing against older and more established teams, yet they still finished the year with pride, laying the cornerstone for a tradition of fierce competition.

There were seven lettermen on the Cowboy's team, of which only two were boys, making tennis the only female dominated sport at Southwood. The boys were Robert Ross and Buddy Dillman, while the girls who lettered were Kathleen Jones, Margaret McNutt, Evelyn Bryant, Terri Lehr, and Christi Johnson.

The Pokes were not without their outstanding participants in tennis. Two of them, Margaret McNutt and Evelyn Bryant went so far as to reach the district matches at Querbes. They competed in women's doubles and won one set.

1971-72 Varsity Cheerleaders

The Spirited Six Aroused Enthusiasm

The 1971-72 Cheerleaders have exhibited an excellent example of spirit for others to follow. The Cowboy spirit was headed by senior Betsy Lee, who with the other five cheerleaders, created skits to perform at each pep rally.

Mrs. Heinsohn, who sponsored the two juniors and four seniors, made sure they appeared at each game. They spent many hours of their time perfecting routines and cheers, painting posters and supporting various school sports and activities.

The cheerleaders created and performed many skits.

Chapparrelle Sr. Officers Attended Workshop

Almost 300 girls, seniors, juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, made up the 1971-72 Southwood Chapparrelles. They devoted much of their spare time and spent long hours practicing, but it wasn't really work; it was fun.

The Chapparrelles were always there, as the center of spirit and enthusiasm at pep rallies or as the highlight of half-time shows at football games. Dancing, which almost seemed to be a tradition at games, became a specialized part of the Chapparrelles in the form of the newly organized Silver Spurs.

Supporting the football and basketball team in the form of making posters and going to games cost money. Projects to raise funds seemed recurring.

The hours were long, and the work might have been hard, but it was worth it after all; there couldn't have been a better cause.

ROUNDUP Reflects Year's Accomplishments

In our somewhat troubled times we must endure pollution, drug abuse, racial disturbances, and other social problems, and work to right them. In the future, as our posterity reads about the bad times, we shall look through the 1972 ROUNDUP and remember the good. Here, the year has been recorded as accurately as possible with the help and cooperation of many. The two sponsors aided the staff in the sometimes chaotic task of compiling a yearbook. We also want to thank David Mauldin from Drummond's House of Photography for his photographic work under near impossible conditions. Our thanks are extended to Forest Park Incorporated for the memorial page picture. Without the help of the ROUNDUP Ad Staff and their sponsor, Miss Jane Jordan, and the merchants who purchased advertising, the book would have been only an idea and not a reality. Finally, we would like to thank the students, faculty and administration for their aid.

I think that if you are reminded of one special moment by the 1972 ROUNDUP, then its purpose has succeeded.
